

Frédéric Debove

Frédéric Debove is University Lecturer in Private Law at the University of Paris II Panthéon-Assas. After obtaining a PhD in law, he took over responsibility, in September 2007, for the Melun Institute of Law and Economics, and has since been reappointed to the Paris II University Centre in Seine et Marne. Frédéric Debove is a member of the Scientific Council of the University of Paris II Panthéon-Assas, coordinator of the preparatory class (CPI) for the ENM (Ecole Nationale de la Magistrature) competition (2008). He is there co-responsible for the master of law and security strategies. He also teaches at the École nationale supérieure des officiers de police de Cannes-Ecluse (since 2006), at the Melun University Centre. He was appointed (July 2010) Director of the Institute for Equal Opportunities by the President of the University of Paris II Panthéon-Assas.

External links

Université Paris II

<https://esd-en.cnam.fr/frederic-debove-1158986.kjsp?RH=1576511990513>